

Dear People:

I feel the rules which prohibit media companies from cross ownership of newspaper, television, and radio stations should stay in effect. To repeal these rules at this time would facilitate the centralization of our media and sources of information. I believe the more diverse and broad based the control and ownership of our media systems are the stronger our society will be. To erode the work which has went into creating the rules we have in place now would be a grave mistake!

Thank you for your consideration of my comment!

Sincerely,

George Gearhart
